Data Processing

DiFens Privacy Policy

What type of data is processed on the platform?

On the DiFens platform we collect and process only data strictly necessary to use the available services. This data is username, e-mail, password, IP address and log files.

Is it mandatory to provide personal data?

Some categories of personal data – e-mail, username, password, are to be provided, so you can register and use the platform. The processing of IP address and log files is also necessary in order for you to use the services available on the platform. However, all fields in your profile that are not marked with * note that the entering of personal data there is not mandatory but up to your own decision.
